

James Tng

Director – Taxation and Business Advisory

Professional background:

James Tng has been a partner since 2006. James has been responsible for our specialist tax services and international tax division, along with our growing superannuation advisory division.

He has decades of experience in tax and business advice to businesses, migrants, overseas and Australian businesses and government agencies.

James generally looks after the ongoing tax affairs for our larger clients with complex tax issues and has extensive knowledge and experience in assisting clients with business advisory, development and planning issues. He has helped several clients overcome major obstacles, deal with tough decisions and capitalise on new opportunities to generate tangible results.

James also assists larger Oil & Gas clients by providing strategic financial know-how and applying his extensive knowledge of tax systems.

James regularly presents for the Institute of Chartered Accountants and is a Chartered Tax Advisor.
